WeGo Public Transit celebrates milestone year

NASHVILLE – WeGo Public Transit celebrated a milestone year, ranging from a groundbreaking to the launch of a new digital fare payment system. Below are just some of the achievements in 2022:

- WeGo opened the doors to the brand-new Hillsboro Transit Center in March, which offers convenient service on routes 7 Hillsboro Pike and 17 12th Avenue South.
- Construction began following the November groundbreaking on The Dr. Ernest Rip Patton, Jr. North Nashville Transit Center, a state-of-the-art facility which will offer multiple bus bays to connect several routes across town.
- We launched QuickTicket, our new digital payment system. Riders can download the QuickTicketTN app or get a reloadable card. Aside from easier boarding and not having to worry about exact change, riders earn free rides with fare capping. This means the cost to ride will never exceed $4 a day or $65 a month.
- WeGo had a record number of new hires in the fall as new bus operators graduated from WeGo Academy.
- Two WeGo Public Transit bus operators and two mechanics received honors for their performances in the state championship roдео competition held during the Tennessee Public Transportation Association (TPTA) Annual Conference. Safety Manager Earl Rhodes safety manager was named Urban Support Employee of the Year.
- Ridership exceeded 100 percent on select routes including: 18 Airport; 23 Dickerson Pike, 52 Nolensville Pike, and 55 Murfreesboro Pike. Weekend ridership increased overall by more than 100 percent.
- We expanded WeGo Link, which provides $2 Uber rides to a bus stop at the following locations:
 - Antioch: Bell Road, Nashboro Village, Southeast Community Center
 - Goodlettsville: Dickerson Walmart, Madison Library, RiverGate Mall
 - Hermitage: Donelson Station, Hermitage Station
 - South Nashville: Nolensville Pike & Ocala, Nolensville Pike & Welshwood, Southeast Community Center.
