WeGo Temporarily Suspends Service Saturday Evening, May 30

NASHVILLE – Due to the developing situation in downtown Nashville, WeGo Public Transit has shut down the Central bus station and suspended all bus operations for the remainder of service on Saturday evening, May 30.

All WeGo buses currently headed out from downtown will drop off passengers until the bus reaches the end of the line and no passengers will be picked up for the rest of the evening.

We apologize for the inconvenience and understand the hardship this may place on our awaiting passengers, but the safety of our customers and staff is our number one priority. WeGo plans to resume normally scheduled operations tomorrow morning, Sunday, May 31.
